

Constructed Response

Author's Craft & Purpose

- How does the author get the reader's attention. Use an example from each story frame.
- What is the author's style? Write a paragraph explaining why you think this.

Constructed Response

Elements of Fiction

- How does the author use action to develop a plot? Use an example from each story frame.
- What conclusions about the characters can you draw from their actions? Be specific.

Constructed Response

Inference

- Are the characters' actions believable and interesting?

Explain in paragraph form.

- Think of a theme that goes with the story you have created. Explain your thinking behind the theme?

Constructed Response

Critically Analyze and Evaluate Text

- How does the author make this story interesting to you?
Use details from the story frames.
- Which storyboard would you recommend to a friend?
Write a brief description of why you would recommend it. Include your criteria for recommending.